My Notifications

On this page, you can see notifications generated in Accucampus.

Please notice that there might be a section on the homepage for notification purposes.

On each row/notification, you can click on the name/subject to see the details; you can also see information such as:

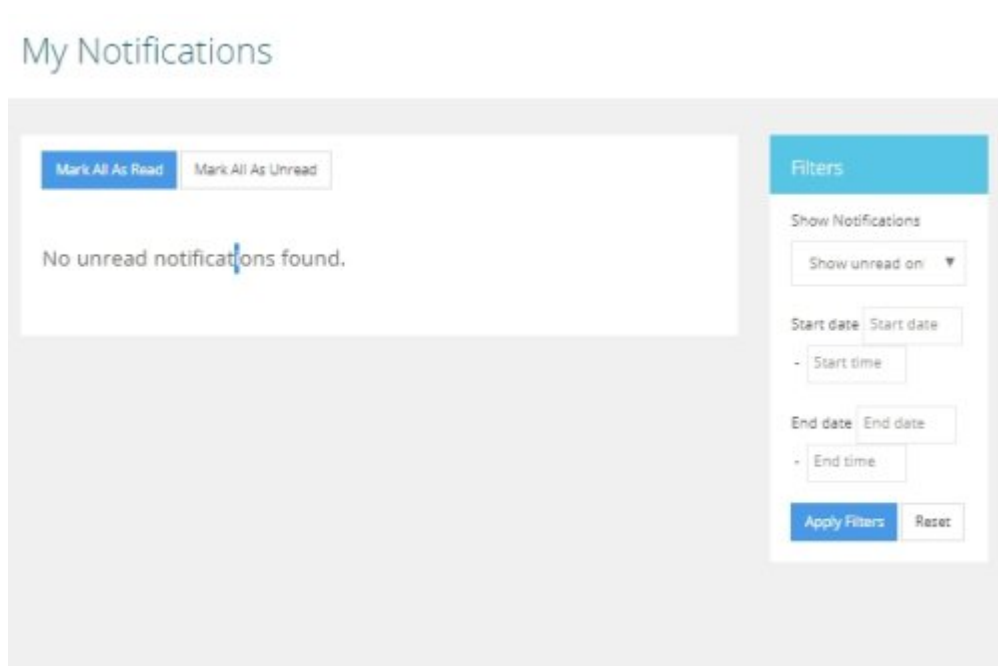

1. the subject of the notification.
2. who sent it.
3. when the message was sent.
4. the status(read/unread)
5. what type(s) of notification is.

For each row, you also have a button (Mark as reading/unread), so you can confirm whoever sent you the message that you read it.

Please read all your notifications and mark them as read as soon as possible.

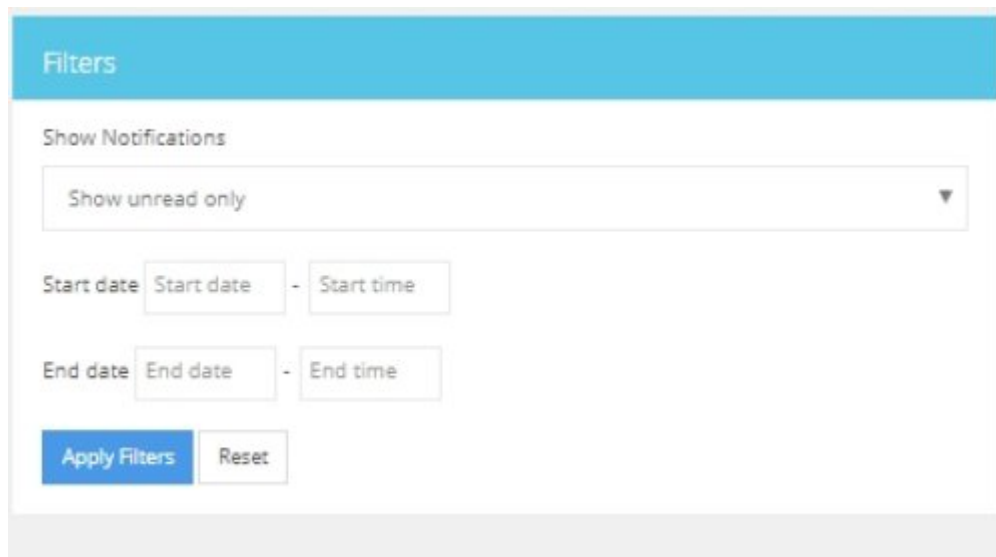

Please Contact your Accucampus Administrator if you think you should be able to view/change some information, and you are not allowed to do so at this point.
